The Extradition Treaty. A feeling is growing in England, France and America, in favor of the total abolition of the Extradition Treaty, by which fugitive criminals may be arrested in a country foreign to that in which they may have committed crimes, and returned to the scene of their misconduct for trial and punishment. This feeling has been increased by a recent case in Canada. A banker or financial agent, in one of the French provincial towns, embezzled Government funds, amounting to several hundred thousand pounds, and fled with his booty to England, and subsequently to New York. To the latter city he was tracked by French detectives, and arrested by an American officer, from whose custody he contrived to escape before the question whether he could be legally delivered up under the Extradition Treaty had been argued. The fugitive next sought refuge in Canada, and was again arrested in Montreal, where he was taken before a Magistrate, who gave an order for his surrender to the French Government. This order was countersigned by the Governor-General of the Colony, and in a few hours' time the culprit was en route to France. According to French law, the fugitive had been guilty of larceny. According to English law, he had been guilty of embezzlement-and embezzlement is not one of the offences named in the Extradition Treaty with France. The Canadian Governor and Magistrate were, therefore, wrong in ordering his rendition upon the construction that the French law places upon the offence. A few months ago a Confederate officer, who had been guilty of piracy on the high seas, was arrested in Nova Scotia, and his extradition was demanded by the United States Government. But piracy is not one of the crimes enumerated in the Extradition Treaty with the United States, and the offender was set at liberty; and but for the fortunate circumstance that he was afterwards silly enough to venture upon American territory, where he was at once seized, the question might have caused no end of trouble between the Cabinets of London and try in 1844, and has since remained in full force. The operation of the Treaty has, however, been frequently fraught with evil consequences, because the character of the offences must be decided by the administrators of the law, and when these administrators make a mistake, reparation or remedy is out of the question, because the man is quickly placed beyond the reach of the habeas corpus. Is it possible to frame any agreement with States whose laws place constructions upon offences so widely different from the interpretation placed upon them by the laws of Great Britain. The French officers say that the man recently delivered up in Canada is a thief, which offence brings him within the power of the Extradition Treaty, while our officers say that he has only been guilty of a breach of trust-an offence that does not render him liable to extradition, not withstanding which he has been carried across the channel and must stand his trial as a thief. Had the offence been of a political nature, involving the sacrifice of human life, will any one pretend to say that the man could have been legally surrendered? Yet in the country in which the crime was committed the offender would be tried for a capital offence. The manifest injustice of the Treaty is becoming more and more apparent, and the English press are clamoring for its repeal. They say that the "Courts are open; let them implead one another." Let every encouragement be given for the prosecution of fugitive foreigners by their own countrymen or by their Governs ments before British tribunals; but let the ancient right of asylum be restored and respected. We observe that the French Government has threatened to repeal the Treaty. Per-

NEW YORK Dec 3-The Times' Washing ton special says of the arrest of John H. Surratt: It appears, as we learn from official sources, that Surratt was arrested in Italy, as heretofore reported, whilst in the Papal Zovaves, and afterwards escaped. The Pope promptly gave the necessary orders for his arrest upon the request of Minister King, notwithstanding there is no treaty between the United States and the Papal Government binding the latter to grant the request. Surratt was traced, after his escape, to Egypt, and afterwards arrested as stated. As incidental to the above, it may be stated that Boutwell, of Massachusetts, in the caucus of Saturday evening, made the statement that the Government had known the whereabouts of Surratt for the last six months.

In regard to the removal of troops from Mexico, it is a military necessity to remove all at once. There is much doubt that this will be done. Much speculation has been indulged in as to the design of Lieutenant-General Sher-man in accompanying Minister Campbell to Mexico. The truth is, however, he was designated as adviser to the gentleman, though as to diplomatic affairs in Mexico, the mili-tary movements on the frontier, should an emergency arise, would require new disposition of the troops; but since the reception of the Emperor's intentions with regard to the removal of his army, it is thought such necessity will not occur. The latest news received by the Govern-

THE ORIGINAL OIL MAN OF CANADA.—About 10 years ago a man named Pratt, who possessed in a remarkable degree the roving disposition, happened to mass through the township of Enniskillen, and seeing the "gum beds," as they were termed, shrewdly guess-od that there was something to be found there. He accordingly bought 70 acres of the land in which is now the centre of the oil districts. and after having the gum annalyzed at Hamilton, left the country. He went to the silver mines of Mexico and amassed a con-siderable fortune; from thence he struck over into the States, where, no doubt, he found adventure enough to satisfy even his spirits, and on the breaking out of the late war he took up arms on the side of the South, and fought the Yankers for four years. In the meantime nothing was heard of him, and on the discovery of oil in Eniskillen, his estate was administered and reverted back to the crown. About three weeks ago, however, the rover stepped into a large oil establishment, announced himself as the original old Pratt, and politely requested the soi disant proprietors to "clear out." Utter-ly confounded these gentlemen handed over $10,000 to quiet the title, and Mr Pratt set off for Ottawa, where he asked the Commissioner of crown lands by what authority his lands were taken from him and given to others. The answer was so far satisfactory that he set off to high glee, and when the writer met him on the cars, was on his way to Oil Springs to give a number of wealthy trespassers, as he considers them, "particu-lar seissors." He expects to realize some $200,000 in gold from the transaction .- Hali

THE FENIANS .- A "Repentant and now x-Fenian" declares in a letter to the Dublin Daily Express, that there are depots of combustible fire in Liverpool and in other parts of England besides the one lately found in this town by the police. "The combustible," he writes, "found in a bottles in Salisbury street, Liverpool, and called liquid fire," (and which ignites almost immediately on coming into contact with the open air), was designed, in the event of a rebellion, to be thrown amongst her Majesty's troops, (especially the cavairy, for the double purpose of frightening the horses and injuring both men and cattle, as also to pitch into the windows of marked and doomed establishments and private houses, when there could be little, if any, chance of extinguishing the flames, or saving the lives of the inmates; besides, it is to be used in many other ways for the truction of life and property. The liquid fire is, as I was informed, some phosphoric compound; and I believe that the devil himself The liquid fire could scarcely have invented anything more terrible. There are, as I have heard, and I have no doubt truly, several depots in Liver-pool at this moment of a like nature to that discovered in Salisbury street, as well as in other parts of England; and if the police are but active and on the alert they cannot fail NEWSPAPERS—It is unreasonable to expect that the public press will always publish only such things as we, individually shall like. A person of strictly religious habits and tastes will be offended if he sees in a newspaper the account of a prize fight, or of something obscene and sinful. He forgets that the newspaper is but the reflection of the world at large; and it he is so fastidious, he should retire altogether from life, for in a single street he will find, at any given hour of the day, what will offend almost all his senses. He need not read what he considers to be objectionable; in like manner, he need not eat at a table d hote any highly-seasoned dish. He may not like venison and game, high. To the Electors of the City of Victoria and the Town of Esquimalt.

GENTLEMEN -

Gentlemen,—
Having received the above flattering address, I cannot do otherwise than accede te the request therein contained; at the same time I cannot hide from myself that the Representative Members of the Legislative Council will possess but little real power: still no Government can withstand the united voice of an united people.

The system of Government so unconstitutionally and unjustly imposed upon the people of this Colony, and which has caused so great and righteous a dissatisfaction, must need be altered, and a liberal and popular form instituted.

The Municipal Incorporation Act must be amended, and municipal institutions introduced wherever desired or practicable.

The necessity of reducing the expense of Government being so obvious, it is but right to expect and believe the Executive of the Colony will take the initiative in the matter. Freedom of pect and believe the Executive of the Colony will take the initiative in the matter. Freedom of Trade having been deposed, the system introduced in its stead must be made sub-ervient to the encouragement of productive as well as commercial pursuits. A judicious revision of the Tariff will do much towards attaining this end.

A liberal bonded warehouse system must be had The coasting trade encouraged in every way. Taxation must be as light as possible; and it is advisable that head-money and other objectionable impositions should be abolished.

That Victoria should be the Seat of Government does not admit of question.

The assimilation of the laws of the herotofore separate Colonies will require great and careful supervision.

pervision. Should you confer-upon me the honor of being your representative, I will use my best efforts to promote the benefit of the Colony at large and striey for the rights and interests of this particular section. At the same time the people must be prepared to act otherwise than through their representatives.

The Ball at the Government House. The first Ball given in this city by His Excellency the Governor and Mrs Seymour, took place on Tuesday evening, and was a happy inauguration of the Union of the Colonies, the invitations being generally extend. ed, to residents on both sides of the Gulf of Georgia. Shortly after 8 o'clock all the carriages and omnibuses of the city were in motion wending their way to Government House, and the rattling of wheels continued without intermission until 10 o'clock, by which time the ball-room was densely and somewhat unconveniently crowded. Among the numerous guests present were Sir James Douglas, K. C. B., and Lady Douglas, Chief Justice Joseph Needham and Family, His Honor Judge Begbie, Hon. Colonial Secretary Birch, Hon. Col. Sec'y. Young, Mayor McDonald, Miss Reid and Mrs Moriarty, Attorney General Wood and family, Attorney General Crease, Treasurer Watson and Mrs Watson, Transuter Franks, Surveyor General Trutch and Mrs Trutch, Surveyor General Pearse and Mrs Pearse, Private Secretaries Stapleton and Maunsell, Auditor Ker, Auditor Wakeford and Mrs Wakeford, Registrar General Bushby and Mrs Bushby, Registrar General Alston, Chief Commissioner Brew, Stipendiary Magistrates Pemberton, Ball, Saunders, Mrs Saunders and Miss Moresby, Gold Commissioner O'Reilly and Mrs O Reilly, and almost the entire official staff of both Colonies; officers of the Fleet and the English and American garrisons at San Juan Island, Members of the Legislature, most of the prominent residents of both Colonies, and visitors from the neighboring Territory, numbering in all over four hundred persons.

Dancing commenced about half-past 8 o'clock, to excellent music provided by Messrs Haynes, Palmer, Sandrie, Wilson, Bushell, and an amateur drummer, and, despite the inconveniences resulting from insufficiency of room, all appeared to enter thoroughly and spiritedly into the enjoyment of the hour: About midnight, the supperroom was thrown open and displayed an array of edibles of every variety in rich profusion, and arranged with consummate taste. The confectionery, jellies and other delicacies were from the well known establishment of Mr Piper, of Government street. For an hour and a half there was an incessant drain upon the store of refreshments, which, like the widow's cruise, however, proved inex haustible, and everybody was loud in his praises of the manner in which this department was conducted. After supper, dancing was resumed (several impromptu dances havwas resumed (several impromptu dances having taken place during the interval, an amateur lady and gentleman kindly presiding at the piano), and did not terminate until about 5 a. m., when the last of the company took their leave.

His Excellency and Mrs Seymour received

His Excellency and Mrs Saymour received their guests affably, and evinced the strongest desire to minister to the comfort and enjoyment of all. Mrs Seymour was elegantly attired in a white satin dress, with a flowing train. She wore diamond bracelets and a magnificent necklace composed of lockets of various precious stones; her hair was plainly but chastely ornamented with pearls and diamonds. His Excellency wore the diplomatic uniform of his rank. The entertainment was inquestionably the largest and grandest of the kind that has yet taken place in these Colonies, and, looking beyond the in these Colonies, and, looking beyond the ephemeral social recreation of a few hours, we congratulate the distinguished hosts upon having effected much real good by coment-ing the bond of Union between the people of the bitherto separate Colonies, in a manner so agreeable to the tastes of all.

Consecration of St. Paul's Church, Esquimalt.

The consecration of the New Episcopal Church of St. Paul's, at Esquimalt, was conducted yesterday afternoon at 2 p. m., in the form set apart for such ceremonies. The Bishop of Columbia, assisted by the Very Revd. Dean Cridge, the Venerable Archdeacon Gilson, Revs. A. C. Garrett, (Rector,) Gribbell, and Raynard, took part in the services. The Bishop having been conducted from the entrance by the Clergymen, Church Wardens, and others, to the vestry, the Registrar, (E. G. Alston, Esq.,) read the petition from the inhabitants for the consecration of the Church. The services then commencing with the 24th Psalm, were listened to with interest by the congregation, among whom were many from this city, including the Chief Justice and family, Mrs Hills, J. G. Shepherd, Esq., and family; several officers from the fleet, and many of the inhabitants of Esquimalt. Excellent and appropriate music in connection with the consecration was rendered by members of the Cathedral Choir, under the direction of Mr Whittaker the organist, the proficiency of which is also due to the efforts of the new director the Rev. Mr Raynard, who lately arrived from England.

His Lordship preached from the 7th chapter of St. Luke's Gospel: "For he loveth our nation, and bath built us a synagogue." In the course of his remarks, His Lordship stated that the site of the edifice was generously donated by Donald Freser, Esq.; a handsome donation was made by the Puget Sound Agricultural Company, and to arrived from England. gilts and subscriptions from the flagship on the station was the Church mainly indebted for funds for the erection of the edifice, while the officers of H.M.S. Malacca had while the officers of H.M.S. Malacca had been instrumental in the building of the porch. After the services were concluded, a collection of $115 was made, a considerable amount for so small a community. There is still a small debt remaining, but we have no doubt it will soon be liquidated through the exertions of the Pastor, Rev. A. C. Garrett, Church Wardens S. J. Spark, R. N., W. Fishor, Esqs., and the committee.

A number of ladies and gentlemen who were present at the consecration was eliber.

A number of Indies and gentlemen who varie present at the consecration were liberally entertained at luncheon at the house of Mr Spark. Particulars respecting the dimensions, and cost of the building &c., were given in this journal on the occasion of the laying of the loundation stone about three months ago. The people of Esquimalt are gratefully sensible of the obligations they are under to the friends of religion for the crection of the first Church in their seighborhood; and we hope that other secret edifices will soon spring up in their midst until every will soon spring up in their midst until every denomination shall be represented.

DISTRICT No. 1 REPRESENTATION. The nomination for this district will be held at noon to-day, at the Police Barracks. Messrs Helmcken and DeCosmos are the only candidates who have thus far condescended to issue an address, and they will probably be returned without a contest. Should a third candidate appear, and a poll be demanded, it will be held to-morrow-in Victoria, at the Police barracks; in Esquimalt, at Williams Hotel.

THEATRE.-The Amateur Dramatic Club took advantage of the presence of so many visitors in town last night to give a performance in the theatre. The pieces represented were "A Conjugal Lesson" The Trial Scene from the " Merchant of Venice " and a Turkish Bath. Considerable amusement was occasioned by a comic song, in character, on a traditional "White Hat" by Mr Callingham.

NANAIMO REPRESENTATION .- Mr. Southgate will stand in this district for the Council, and has received assurance of support from many electors. Mr Southgate has large interests at stake on the Island, is a gentleman of intelligence, and will make a good working member of the Council, to the discharge of the duties of which he will 10 give his entire attention.

LIBEL SUIT .- The suit of C. B. Young, the Proprietors of the Colonist, for alleged ibel, is set for trial to-morrow, before Chief Justice Needham and a special jury. The suit is brought to recover $5000 for damages to character, alleged to have been sustained by the plaintiff. The case promises to be one of the most interesting yet tried in the

THE POLICE DEPARTMENT .- Superintendent of the Police Hankin, we understand. will leave for England on the next steamer, no provision for his continuance in office having been made by the new regime. Mr Hankin will be succeeded by Mr Brew, or Capt. Pritchard of New Westminster. Mr Hankin has proved an efficient and honest officer.

DISTRICT No. 2.- We are pleased to announce that Mr. J. D. Pemberton will stand in this district for the Council. Mr Pemberton is a clear-headed, honest and capable gentleman, and will, if returned, make a most useful and intelligent member. We hope that be will be returned without centest.

BRITISH PERIODICALS. The London Quarterly Review (Conser-

The Edinburgh Review (Whig)

The .. estminster Review (Radical. The North British Review Free Chac -AND-

Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine, Tory

The four Reviews re-published by Messrs. Scott & Co., are generally considered as the Great Reviews, and Blackwood has been justly placed in the same rank. Whoever dispenses with reading publications of this class, whatever may be his general information, will soon be altogether behind the times in which he lives—and in these times a person may soon get very far behind. They may be read and studied with advantage cythe people of this country, of every creed and party.

centrated extracts of it, contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla, or any thing else.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly despised, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remety as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have ground for believing it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. In order to secure their complete cardiciation from the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on the bottle. BLACKWOOD is unusually attractive at this time, to Americans not only for its serial articles by distinguished writers of fiction, but for the account of the late civil war, now being written by Col. Von Borke, a German officer, chief-of-statt to Gen. J. E. B. Stuart, of the Confoderate

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

A compound remedy, in which we have labored to produce the most effectual alterative that can be made. It is a concentrated extract of Para Sarsaparilla, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effective antidote for the diseases Sarsaparilla is reputed to circ. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellowitizes. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found of the following complaints:

Scroyula and Eruptive Direases, Utgers, Pimples, Blotches, Tumors, Salt Rilliam, Scald Head, Syphilis and Syphilitic Appletions, Mercurial Direase, Dropsy, Neuralgia or Tic Dolloureaux, Debility, Dysprista and Indicestion, Erystpelas, Rose, or St. Anthony's Fire, and indeed the whole class of complaints grising from Impurity of the Blood.

Horrible Disenses, and indeed the whole class of companins graing from Impurity or This Blood.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which fester in the blood at that season of the year. By the timely expulsion of them many rankhing disorders are imped in the bud. Multitudes can, by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the endurance of foul cruptions and ulcerous sores, through which the system will strive to yid itself of corruptions if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, cruptions, or sores; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with this pabulum of life disordered, there can be no tasting health. Sooner or later something must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is ordered or correspondent. Horrible Disenses.
